RFCU Makes $2 Million Pledge to Boys & Girls Club of North Alabama

The Boys & Girls Clubs of North Alabama has received a $2 million commitment from Redstone Federal Credit Union toward their Doors to the Future capital campaign. The donation, which will be paid over the next five years, is the largest single gift ever awarded to the organization.

"This is a transformational gift from Redstone," said Patrick Wynn, president and CPO of Boys & Girls Clubs. "The future is bright here in the Huntsville area. We want to make sure that the Boys & Girls Clubs continue to keep pace with the needs of our youth and make sure their futures are equally as bright."

Redstone's leadership gift signals the launch of Doors to the Future, a comprehensive campaign designed to expand the capacity of Boys & Girls Clubs. The campaign, which totals over $7 million, will enable the organization to develop new Centers for Advancement, increase their transportation, build their scholarship fund, and expand into North Huntsville.

Boys & Girls Clubs currently serves about 5,000 youth annually, and Wynn expects the added facilities and resources to serve an additional 950 students.

"We see this investment as another way to improve the futures of youth and families who live in the areas that we serve," said Joe Newberry, President and CEO of Redstone.

Newberry continued, "So many success stories have come out of the Boys & Girls Clubs and this gift will create opportunities for even more. The organization continues to be a catalyst for positive change in the community."

HMA Will Showcase Recent Acquisitions July 25

The Huntsville Museum of Art will present the most recent version of a recurring exhibition designed to showcase artworks added to its permanent collection within the last year.

Some works were purchased specifically for the collection, while others represent gifts from generous donors, according to Museum promos. Still, some works will be familiar to Museum regulars, while the work of more established artists is also displayed. All works, however, hold in common a review by the Museum's Collections and Acquisitions Committee to fit the criteria established for the collection, and they are compatible with the Museum's collecting objectives and goals.

Moreover, HMA describes recent acquisitions as "a wonderful hodgepodge." Works of different styles and media are displayed together, sometimes with no unifying characteristic other than the fact that they came into the collection within a given time period.

Nonetheless, the shows demonstrate the scope of the Museum's collecting interests and provide opportunities to acknowledge generous donors whose gifts help to build the collection.

HBG: All About Pollinators

Interested—even remotely—in the subject of pollination? If so, a session on "Pollination: Seeds to Sprouts" could be an answer to a prayer. At the Huntsville Botanical Garden on Saturday, July 17, at 10 a.m., the like-minded will "dive into the world of pollinators and see how they answer the call of the flowers!"

Participants in the 45-minute session and series will use Rita Gray's book, "Flower Are Calling," to learn how pollination works and to observe pollinators at work in the Garden.

The activity (July 17 and July 30) is free for adult members and $14 for non-members (Children: $10 and $20). For additional information, call (256) 830-4447.

Washington in One Minute

Here are the happenings in Washington, D.C., this week:

1. ON THE FLOOR. The Senate is in session this week and will vote on Biden Administration nominees at State and Labor. The House is in recess until next week, but House committees will meet and vote this week. Last Friday, the U.S. Capitol Police began removing the remaining security fence around the Capitol Building and reopened the outside lawns and plazas to the public on Saturday – although the Capitol Building will remain closed to the public.

2. THE WHITE HOUSE. On Tuesday, President Biden visited Philadelphia to speak about voting rights. On Thursday, he hosted a meeting with German Chancellor Angela Merkel at the White House.

Last Friday, the President issued a lengthy, 72-point Executive Order on Promoting Competition in the American Economy, in which he instructed his Justice Department to reverse course on what he termed was 40 years of pulling back on enforcing laws to promote competition. In his remarks he focused on importing lower-priced drugs from Canada, selling hearing aids over the counter and limiting non-compete agreements in the workplace. Last Sunday, The Washington Post reported that top U.S. health officials, including White House Chief Medical Advisor Anthony Fauci and CDC Director Rochelle Walensky, will receive a briefing today (Monday) from Pfizer on whether a third COVID vaccine shot will be necessary. Last Thursday, Pfizer announced that it intended to seek regulatory approval to administer a 3rd shot to persons 6 to 12 months after receiving the 2-dose regimen.

3. CDC GUIDANCE FOR IN-PERSON SCHOOL. Last Friday, the U.S. Centers for Disease Control issued an updated Guidance for COVID-19 Prevention in K-12 Schools, which recommends sending children back to in-person classes this fall and only mandates mask-wearing for those students and teachers who have not yet received a COVID vaccination.

4. FISCAL YEAR 2022 APPROPRIATIONS + EARMARKS. On Monday, the House Appropriations Committee continued marking up the Fiscal Year 2022 appropriations bills, with the Energy and Water Development Appropriations bill, the Transportation/HUD Appropriations bill, the Commerce/Justice/Science Appropriations bill, and the Labor/HHS/Ed Appropriations bill scheduled to be taken up by their subcommittees. These bills contain congressionally-added project designations, formerly known as earmarks, for the first time in 10 years.

5. RESTORING PELL GRANTS FOR PRISON

PROGRAMS. As part of the landmark 1994 crime bill, Congress banned the distribution of Pell Grants, a major source of federal college aid, to incarcerated Americans. Last December, Congress officially overturned that ban by passing the FAFSA Simplification Act, which reinstated prisoners' access to Pell Grants, at least on paper. However, the U.S. Department of Education has yet to actually reverse the Pell Grant restrictions on its end, meaning a college degree is still out of reach for the overwhelming majority of would-be students in prison. Although the department has until 2023 to act on this issue, advocacy groups are pressing the agency to accelerate its action.

"WHY WE NEED TO SURVIVE"

In Genesis 50:20, Joseph tells his brothers, "You intended to harm me, but God intended it for good to accomplish what is now being done, the saving of many lives."

When we look at this scripture we need to understand that when we "survive" certain things in our life, it's not just for us. But sometimes it can be for other people, as well. I remember 20 years ago I survived cancer and because of that I was able to be a blessing to others through my ministry, as well as my relationships made with others.

God not only wants to do things for us, He wants to do things through us, as well. Now when we look at the life of Joseph, we can see that he knew a thing or two about survival. Remember, he had to survive being sold into slavery, and being falsely accused of being with Potiphar's wife and thrown into prison. But you know what? He survived prison, as well. So his road to success was not easy. And, we all need to remember that success does not always come in a straight line. There will be setbacks along the way.

You know, sometimes we can't see what God has for our lives until we start experiencing life. As a matter of fact, the best instruction that we will ever receive will come from actual life experiences. And, let's face it, there will be failures along the way. But the good news is, we are all wired for survival.

Joseph was wired for survival and he teaches all of us a great lesson about perseverance.

So, whatever it is that you really want out of life, you will have to learn how to survive the trials and the tests that try to keep you from what God wants you to do. There will be times when you don't see any progress. But you still have to press on and survive. Then there may be times where you feel that what you are doing is insignificant. But you have to press on and survive. The enemy will also try to intimidate you with thoughts that you are not good enough. But remember, anything that the enemy tells you is a lie. So you have to press on and survive those attacks. And, finally, I pray that God gives you the insightfulness to realize that trials come to make you more aware not angry, stronger not weaker, better not bitter ... Stay encouraged, my brothers and sisters.

UAH Sets New Enrollment Record

The University of Alabama in Huntsville (UAH), a part of The University of Alabama System, announced record enrollment for fall 2020 of 10,000 students. This marks the sixth straight year of successive growth for the campus. Since 2014, UAH enrollment has climbed 36 percent.

“UAH is a leading destination for high-achieving students,” said UAH President Darren Dawson. “It doesn’t surprise me that we have once again recruited an outstanding new class to break this enrollment record. The fact that this has been achieved in the midst of a global pandemic is a testament to the value of a UAH education.”

The fall freshman class rounds out at 1,350, and once more the 2020 enrollees have exhibited extraordinary academic performance. Dr. Dawson recognizes and appreciates the efforts of the entire Charger community that go into attracting and retaining this level of excellence in the UAH student population.

“I want to thank our faculty, staff, and students for banding together so effectively in these challenging times to not only ensure our campus is a safe place to study, work, and learn, but also for their efforts to continue to grow and provide a superior educational experience despite any obstacles we might face.”

Benchmarks:

- 52.1 percent achieved an overall high school GPA of 4.0 or higher.
- 39.1 percent scored 30 or above on the ACT.
- Overall GPA of 3.88

Other Distinctions:

- UAH ranks first among all public Alabama schools based on the economic outcome of graduates, according to the Brookings Institution.
- UAH is considered “very competitive” by Barron’s Profiles of American Colleges.
- UAH is classified as a “high research activity” university by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.
- UAH has five research disciplines ranked in the top 20 in the nation by the National Science Foundation.
- UAH is ranked “the number 1 best value college in Alabama” by SmartAsset.

Howard University’s “2nd Freshman Orientation” for Alumna Phylicia Rashad

“... let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, . . .”
- James 1:19

Too often, we must eat our own words because we spoke before we listened.

But how we eat them can become a teachable moment for those we seek to educate.

Such is the teachable moment offered by Howard alumna and its new Chadwick Boseman College of Fine Arts Dean, former “Cosby Show” co-star Phylicia Rashad.

Even before she teaches her first class, Rashad is showing by her personal example that immediate corrective actions can outdistance perhaps one’s initial words.

When on June 30, Bill Cosby was released early from prison and his sexual assault conviction, Rashad tweeted immediately, “FINALLY!!!! A terrible wrong is being righted — a miscarriage of justice is corrected!”

When Howard declared her initial tweet “lacked sensitivity,” Rashad then about-faced and re-Tweeted.

Leading by Example. Rashad’s re-Tweet followed my TOP formula developed to correct, manage missteps: Target the problem, Own it, and then Proceed with corrective actions - shared in my permanently-free eBook, 7 Steps to Manage Ego Problems: The How-to Guide for “Somebody Else,” www.timallston.com.

For example, Rashad:

- Targeted and Owned the problem: “This week, I tweeted a statement that caused so much hurt in so many people - both broadly and inside the Howard community, . . . I offer my most sincere apology.” And then
- Proceeded with corrective actions - “I have since removed that upsetting tweet. . . . I intend to earn your trust and your forgiveness.”

Rashad then offered that she plans soon to “to engage in active listening and participate in trainings to not only reinforce University protocol and conduct, but also to learn how I can become a stronger ally to sexual assault survivors and everyone who has suffered at the hands of an abuser,” <https://www.cnn.com/2021/07/02/us/phylicia-rashad-howard-letter/index.html>.

While some are calling for Dean Rashad’s resignation, I believe that she instead can serve us even better as an example of how to repair quickly and manage correctly.

Now let’s see if her corrective actions speak louder than her initial words!

Councilman Keith Holds Town Hall

Huntsville City Councilman Devyn S. Keith held a town hall meeting for his District 1 constituents on Wednesday, July 7, at the former Johnson High School Auditorium.

During the meeting, which was attended by Huntsville Mayor Tommy Battle and supported by other city officials, Councilman Keith announced the next phase of development for the Johnson Legacy Campus - which will add additional greenspace and an amphitheater.

Adding to the announcements, Councilman Keith welcomed developers from Atlanta, Ga. The team will build additional new residential housing in the North Huntsville area that will be adjacent to the current Jaguar Hills subdivision, which is also entering the next phase of development.

Councilman Keith encouraged the attendees to keep their eyes peeled as he has more positive news for District 1 forthcoming.

City, HPD Push Social Media Safety & Caution

Social media has quickly overtaken phone call and e-mail as the primary way people keep up with family and friends. There were more than 3.6 billion global social media users in 2020, and that number is expected to increase to nearly 4.5 billion by 2025.

While sites like Facebook, Instagram, Twitter and TikTok entertain and inform users, it’s important to know how to stay safe and keep criminals from scamming you or your loved ones.

Huntsville Police’s Cyber Crime Unit Sgt. Joe Kennington offers these tips:

Be unique. Use strong passwords on your account that include a mix of uppercase and lowercase letters, numbers and symbols. Don’t repeat passwords on every account you use.

Avoid clicking pop-ups

Don’t click on suspicious

links, unknown emails or visit unverified websites.

Save your files. Have a system to back-up data at least every three months.

Secure your connection. Only connect to secure Wi-Fi networks.

Mum’s the word. Be mindful in providing or sharing your personal information with others.

Beef-up security. Enable two-factor authentication on your accounts, when available.

Stay aware. Legitimate companies won’t make unexpected or unsolicited phone calls, send emails or messages through social media asking for personal information or passwords.

Research. Never call a phone number provided by a possible scammer. If it seems too good to be true, it probably is. Call HPD’s non-emergency number (256-722-7100) to file a report.

CALLLED 2 PREACH

REV. MICHAEL RICE

Seasons Change But Not the Source

Psalms 1:1-3

The Psalmist presents what I label as a convincing contrast between two kinds of lives. The contrast presented are not subtle or suggestive, they are visible and verifiable. So much of what I call 'pop culture' theology presents God as the One who can and will make one's life comfortable and trouble-free if they have the recipe-like measure of faith.

Some of that theology (pseudo-theology) even suggests that God is under obligation to do for His children, when they 'plant the right seed in the right ministry,' 'sing the appropriate praise and worship'

HE WILL BE LIKE A TREE FIRMLY PLANTED BY STREAMS OF WATER, WHICH YIELDS ITS FRUIT IN ITS SEASON AND ITS LEAF DOES NOT WITHER;
AND IN WHATEVER HE DOES, HE PROSPERS.

PSALM 1:3

song long enough, and/or 'speak the word,' which oft times amounts only to quoting a verse verbatim from the Bible.

The truth of the matter is that the obligation is not on God's part, but rather it is on the part of those who claim to be His. It is not enough to simply claim but there must be some conduct that can visibly verify said claim.

Realistically speaking, in life there are Winter and Fall days as well as Summer and Spring. What the Psalmist declares is that seasons change but not the Source. The one who chooses to conduct their lives according to God's word does so because they have been 'planted like a tree by the rivers of waters.' Therefore, their leaves (works, conduct, service) do not wither, but because of that unlimited Source of the 'rivers of waters,' they 'bring forth fruit in their season.'

Mrs. Pearl Harris

First Lady Hattie Pearl Harris is a native of Forest, Miss., where she was the fifth of 10 children born to Mr. Henry Jones and the late Mother Annie Mae Jones. She graduated from East Scott High School in Lake, Miss. She is a licensed evangelist in the Church of God In Christ (COGIC).

Dr. Harris serves faithfully in various capacities in her local church, as well as on the district and jurisdictional levels. She has served diligently and faithfully in the gospel ministry for 35 years with her loving husband of 45 years—founder and pastor of True Light Church of God In Christ (Blessed Hope Ministry), Superintendent Dr. Terrell Harris, Jr.

Dr. Harris is the proud and blessed mother of three wonderful children—Apostle Derek T. Harris (Renee'), Trudy Harris Moore (Charles) and Mark Christopher Harris, all truly miracles from God. God graciously fulfilled Psalm 113:19 in her life: "He maketh the barren woman to keep house, to be a joyful mother of children. Praise ye the Lord." She is also blessed with four beautiful grandchildren. In November 1972, Dr. Harris received Jesus Christ as her personal Savior and was later baptized and filled with the precious gift of the Holy Ghost. Dr. Harris believes in fasting and prayer, and she has a victorious testimony that prayer changes things. A loving, kind, caring and God-fearing woman, she has been anointed by God to teach the unadulterated word of God in power and to minister to young, hurting women. She is founder of "Personal Touch Ministry," which is divinely designed to bring healing, deliverance, restoration and hope to young women whose lives have been changed by neglect, rejection, divorce, depression, emotional hurt, poor self-esteem, brokenness, loneliness, abuse, guilt, as well as from suffering silently through the disappointments of unfulfilled potential and unrealized dreams and aspirations.

Dr. Harris is a conference and seminar speaker and teacher, as well as a facilitator, counselor, encourager, motivational speaker and administrator.
